(Hogan)

I always thought that you could be trusted
Until your stupid ass got busted
And now all along, .....maybe I was wrong.

I always thought you knew what you were doing
I always thought I knew who I was screwing
But now all along, ..... maybe I was wrong.

For everytime that you confessed , to slippin' off your dress
You took one step closer to the door

God knows it didn't take me long, to realize that I was wrong
And now you're in my head, sleeping in my bed
- and I wish I was alone

CHORUS

How can I miss you if you wont go away?
How can I miss you if you wont go away?
After all she's done, she tells me that I'll miss her someday
But how can I miss you if you won't go away.

She rolls her eyes and spreads her thighs
And starts believing her own lies
Together we belonged,... hell no I was wrong

Goes to show, you never know
If you're girl's a princess or a ho
Sometimes you get it right, this time I got it wrong
