"Defensive Personalities"

One mind divided into three, for every problem a personality
With sorrow comes reassurance, with confusion there's ignorance
Each one trying to protect, for the crisis a person they'll select

Deny who they are, a fantasy gone too far

Protecting the weak points of the mind
Defensive personalities
Violent one minute calm the next Passed down from generations, years of pain and complications
Defensive Personalities
Darkness was a punishment, memories time cannot mend Brutalised from the day of birth, to reality they can't return

Existing in a world of three lives inside of one Protecting the weak points of the mind

Defensive personalities
Violent one minute calm the next
Defensive Personalities
