I was sitting on a bench
In the corner of the street
As the girl came passing by
And I looked into the ground
As she sat down on the bench
Then she gave me her eye
She started asking questions
About who and what I was
I stood up and walked away
I could feel her burning eyes
Her surfer's morning eyes
I was too afraid to stay

So come on, get along
Hang out with me
Please hang out with me
So come on, get along
Take a dance
Take a dance with me

I hide away everyday
I got nothing left to say
Will I ever find the valley
When it's time for time to kill
I will go for my hill
I will never find the valley

So come on, get along
Hang out with me
Please hang out with me
So come on, get along
Take a dance
Take a dance with me

So come on, get along
Hang out with me
Please hang out with me
So come on, get along
Take a dance
Take a dance with me
