"Stone"

When I'm sinking like a stone,
How far will you let me fall,
Before you pull me back to your body.

And you'll never know,
Until you breathe my breath,
What it means to really be alone.
When I'm going down,
How long will you let me drown,
Before you put the lid back on the bottle.

Stay away,
I leave with the emptiest feeling,
I'll never be seeing you again.

When I'm breaking all my bones,
Jumping off of window sills,
Will you be there to put me back together?

When I cannot talk,
And all my words are caught,
In my throat, can you hear me still?

Stay away,
I leave with the emptiest feeling,
I'll never be seeing you again.

Right about the time I stopped,
Trying to emulate a god,
I found out im not.

Tired scream,
Crash collide,
Someone died on the road tonight,
I hope they're alright.

I get my friends for free,
Although there all to good for me,
I'm not depressed,
Just obsessed with myself.
