Hear the sound -- it's calling out from empty faces all around Feel the night -- it's tender arms are wrapped around me much too tight Breathe the air -- it comes to me but it will never take me there
I see the light -- but it's only a blinding flash in my eye
CHORUS:
Hear the sound -- the whispers around you now
The sounds cutting through somehow The shadows are calling out -- the sound of the underground
I move in time -- to a world I'm leaving far behind
I see a face -- a shattered dream in a broken place
I touch the ground -- it trembles to that familiar sound
I separate -- right from wrong from love from hate
