(Mark Stuart)

I must have dreamed you up in my head many years ago
But you never existed or at least I thought I'd never know
Its like a thing so rare
You came out of thin air

Now, I'm laughing with you
Now, I'm talking with you
Now, I'm holding you
And I'm never gonna let you go

Now, I'm touching you
Now, I'm looking at you
Now, I'm loving you
And I'm never gonna let you go

I wonder if you ever dreamed of somebody like me
If you did, I know what you felt when you found me to be
You surely answered my prayer
You came out of thin air

Life is so short that we can't always finish our plans
There's a world of people who want things they just can't have
But, life is sometimes fair
You came out of thin air
