the waters choppy, but it doesn't cut me now. cause i aint sinkin, no i aint goin down below. i dont think that way you know i never have. i cant slow down now just because you lag. youre always pulling, keep on trying. keep on trying to bring me down. im going to show you that i dont like to fuck around. you show your face and ill look the other way. you blink your eyes and youve got no friends to play. pick up the slack, no. i wont carry your monkey on my back. save the world, no got no time, ive got to save myself today. ive got a mission to fulfill the things in life. ive got a lot of things to see before i live to die. all this negativity tries to bring me down. as you get worse, i turn my life around.
