With one drink you can't handle it
Another empty bottle
Come tomorrow you won't remember what you did

The past is in the past
Hanging onto a memory is not gonna bring it back
The people that surround you
They couldn't care less about you but they're the ones
that you love
They're the ones that you love

I prefer not to use a chaser
I like the burn to serve as an eraser
Another empty bottle
Come tomorrow I will remember everything I've done

The past is in the past
Hanging onto a memory is not gonna bring it back
The people that surround you
They couldn't care less about you but they're the ones
that you love
They're the ones that you love

Oh
Were your eyes just free to see what they saw
Or were your lips just free to say what they really want
Do you even remember now what that was
Do you remember

With one drink you can't handle this
Another empty bottle
Come tomorrow I will be reminding you of what you did
