I hope you're ready to turn this up
To turn it on

I hope you're ready to sing out your heart while singing your song

I hope you're ready to never be good enough
Good enough

I won't let you take this from me
It's everything I want it to be
Everything I need it to mean

You can't stop now
Playing stupid games

You can't stop now and I am the one who's suffering

You can't stop now and I won't pretend to be your friend

I won't let you take this from me
It's everything I want it to be
Everything I need it to mean

You tell your friends you want to quit
It's not what it seems
How did it get like this

You tell your friends you want to quit
It's not what it seems
How did it get like this

I won't let you take this from me
It's everything I want it to be
Everything I need it to mean
