Anytime you change your mind
You whisper something in a line
It's your last chance now you should be moving on

Drink my fill, known to spill
Stuck in a cave with no way out
Whether it's a curse I should be moving on

CHORUS

I've been working on a million works of art
Had my mind made up, had a change of heart

Anytime you speak your mind
I can't feel this way for much to long
Spinning in the dark you were just shining on

What to say what to do
Working so hard for what and all you do
Why should you mold yourself you should be growing up

CHORUS

Slow down sweet thing
Have a wonderful time tonight
With your brain's being scattered
I hope that you're doing all right

When you find you've got the time
I'd be happy if you could drop me a line
It's your last chance now the night is closing in

I Drink my fill, I'm known to spill
Stuck in a cave with no way out
Whether it's a curse a should be dreaming on
