It's in every breath that I take
It's in every smile that I make
The way the walls just seem to close in
When you walk in the room
God it's making me shake

I've lost it all this time around
When things started going somewhere
Is this beginning to take a toll on you
And everyone around that I care about?

They say that love is wasted on the young
I guess that's what we're here for
So sit with me tonight I feel so lost
And you said you'd never let go of me
Through this dream

It's the little things you miss
Like the sound of her voice
Or the taste of her kiss
I've lost it all this time around
When things started going somewhere
This is beginning to take a toll on me
And everyone around that you care about

They say that love is wasted on the young
I guess that's what we're here for
So sit with me tonight I feel so lost
You said you'd never let go of me
Through this dream

If you really wanna talk then we'll talk
We'll take a drive where nobody will know
Whoa, whoa
If you really wanna talk then we'll talk
We'll take a drive where nobody will know
Whoa, whoa

They say that love is wasted on the young
I guess that's what we're here for
So sit with me tonight I feel so lost

You said you'd never let go of me
Through this dream

They say that love is wasted on the young
So sit with me tonight I feel so lost
Never let go of me
Through this dream
