

Staggered Crossing "When The Morning Comes"

So I've been dreaming, of all these things I've seen and felt
Just dreaming dreaming
About the things we could have done that eve

There is no reason that all these things are pleasing you
Cause I'm wasted just wasted.
There are no more deciding votes left for us

So when the morning comes oh lady I won't back down
So when the morning comes oh lady I won't back down

So I'm unable to govern all the plans I've made
So I'll see ya just see ya
There are no regrets I've had my fill for the day.

So when the morning comes oh lady I won't back down
So when the morning comes oh lady I won't back down

In past experiences I've left them lying on there backs
As I creep out just creeping
Till hearts of stone they crumble into sand
