Rainbows on summer
The rain drops falls all over to cover the land with sparks of water

Children are skipping
The mood is so much better
The winter is almost coming

Jump over puddles
The sun is still there shining driving cars on the free highway

Today im feeling
I had finally got the meaning Im breathing clear and now I say

FLOW
I was wandering around while the wind had changed her flow

NOW I KNOW
It was wrong to be sad
when I got one more step to go

Rainbows on winter
The tears unites with water
The breakup is much longer

Don't tell me that your love to me is over

Turn on a lighter
Im begging you to hear me
I can't do a thing while you are not here Would you forgive me and we'll be soon together?

I was wandering around
while the wind had changed her flow

NOW I KNOW

It was wrong to be sad
when I got one more step to go
