You can't stay here
The company's good, I know
But I must wake up alone
And the party is over

You can't stay here
I'm moments away from sleep
And what you want to say can keep
'Til I'm awake and I'm sober

Maybe you think I'm unkind
When I tell you to go away
I know what you offer and I could be softer
And tell you to stay

But to me, you're a stranger
To touch you is danger, I know it's true
Because what I've got at home is too dear
To waste for an hour with you
You can't stay here

I'll be alright alone
And when I'm safe in her arms at home
I'll thank you for leaving
You can't stay here
You can't stay here
You can't stay here
