When we were young and loved each other
More than anyone will know
Until that day you found a new love
Then you said I'd have to go.

Oh the Road is rough and rocky
Since the day I last saw you
Another's won your heart forever
And I'm lonesome without you.

On down this lonesome road I wander
There's nothing left for me to do
For I've still got this memory of you
And the love that we once knew.

My hope is now that you'll be happy
With the new love that you've found
But should you ever change your mind dear
Remember me I'll be around.
