On a dark and lonely highway
I need the sun to raise my head
I come before you, I am naked
The man, I am now must be shed

I've weathered storms and I am broken
My beaten heart is in your hands
What I really need is shelter and a chance

To relearn love
Teach me all over, all over
To relearn love
Show me again so I can relearn love

The comfort of your arms around me
Your tender hands caress my head
I lay beside you, I'm not worthy
This jaded man's not who I am

I've touched the flame and I've been burnt
All I need is a second chance
Give me eyes of a child and teach this man

To relearn love
Teach me all over, all over
To relearn love, show me again
Show me again so I can relearn love

I was selfish but you still loved me
You gave the greatest gift of all and it set me free
When time means nothing
And your world is standing still

Listen world, he's calling
If you feel me drop and kneel
Can you feel it? Just remember
Oh, oh, remember to relearn love

To relearn love, show me again
To relearn love
(Relearn my love)

Teach me all over, all over

To relearn love
(Show me, show me)
Show me again
(To relearn my love)
To relearn love
(Teach me now, now)

Teach me all over, all over
(Relearn my love)
To relearn love
(To relearn, relearn my love)
Show me again

So I can relearn love
