I can't believe your thinking save everyone, inside you take everything
fake everything
save everything--about me all of you, (all right) just, just because, I want to know do you still (come last night with clear eyes peeled/pale) you never got there (even though you say you will) sorry now that you've fallen from my eyes that's the truth
why tell me about (everything) why tell me about (anything) you're just waiting for her to come apart you're just waiting for her
take everything
fake everything
save everything
