Everyone is sad
Everyone is scared
Everyone has been let down by now
Everyone is empty
Everyone's bare as bone
Everyone's questions all that is real,
But nobody's answers seem to heal
Anything that hurts
Every time you close your eyes

Everything seems complicated
Nothing makes sense at all
Everyone seems so mistaken
Everyone wants to be whole

Everyone has danced
In their own masquerade
Dressing in smiles
To cover the shame
Everyone's been broken
Too many times
Everyone wants some reasons why
Nothing seems right
And nobody cares at all

We all want to live

Everyone has bled
Under their skin
You know we've all said
This can't be the end
