If I told you the truth
Would you even try to understand
I've tried to hold you so close
But now I wish I never let you In

(Chorus)

If I could just let go
I would not look back
If I could only grow out of what we had
If I could just let go
I would not look back to you and anything...

Your not quite what you seem
And you lied when you said you had everything
You are clothed in the best
But I know that underneath your just a mess

(Chorus)

You stole my mind
You stole my will
You took my time
And you took everything
You broke me down
You make me drown
Still you said that you love me

If I told you the truth
Would you even try to understand

(Chorus)
