Open outside
Freedom waiting motion where
I'm searching for levity
When will she save me
From drifting down
Still expansion breathes
You're so distant cold
You're so distant cold and old
(i hate what comes down)
I want to visualize, i want to be outside
I'm searching for levity
I want to be above, beyond the clouds
I'm searching for levity
I am searching for levity
Larger than life
Knowledge more vast than we know
Or we come from
I am moving on
I want to follow my impulses
To help me figure out
I want to ascend
To the excess outside world about
I want to visualize, inside of velvet skies
I'm searching for levity
I want to touch her light, carress a distant thought
I'm searching for levity
Help me look outside
Will she try to hide
I'm searching for levity
When will she find me
I look...
I see nothing
I want to visualize, watch her power rise
I'm searching for levity
I want to see her eyes converge with mine
I'm searching for levity
I'll see beyond the clouds
I'm searching for levity
When will she find me?
