The year you were snow queen at the high school
Christmas ball
The night we got snowed in and prayed it wouldn't thaw
The year I bought your bracelet and you bought me one too
I never spend a Christmas that I don't think of you

The year I helped your daddy trim the outdoor tree with lights
You worked part time at Penny's and I took you home at night
The Christmas eve you told me you loved me and I knew I'd never spend a Christmas I wouldn't think of you

The night you planned the party to decorate the tree It snowed so hard no one could come, no one that if but me

The year the senior class sold Christmas trees and mistletoe
And we never thought that someday this would seem so long ago
The Christmas eve I told you I loved you, well I do
And I never spend a Christmas that I don't think of you I'll never spend a Christmas I won't be loving you
