(Don Reid - Harold Reid)

I just wanna say I still love you
And don't you ever forget
Some things may change but remember
Honey, you and me we ain't even started yet.

They say all good things have an ending
And I might to say they were wrong
But they don't know how I feel every morning
'Cause they don't know how you feel all night long.

And I just wanna say I still love you
And don't you ever forget
Some things may change but remember
Honey, you and me we ain't even started yet.

--- Instrumental ---

I took all the others before you
For better but most people for worse
But you have erased every mem'ry
You'll be the last but you feel like the first.

And I just wanna say I still love you
And don't you ever forget
Some things may change but remember
Honey, you and me we ain't even started yet.

Honey, you and me we ain't even started yet.
Honey, you and me we ain't even started yet...
