I'm in awe of you sifting by as thousand see a stage there are no words or truths distorted views parrying none we fell asleep watching a cage drama passes you by simplicity echoing this lost limboing lies fade yourself just breathe a source of overwhelming joy as it dwells with in us all fall upon euphorias embrace and i'll find you there faults of perfection crowded the scene it's a placidical dream wading in time a flawless serenade in your eyes visions overcome the trees no apologies this inspires me waiting on dimes waiting to find there's so much more i find with you here in a room my silent adore so you said slow i will now go and wait for impossible wounds to heal just for three days i'll see you again cause this is the study of leaves blind fold these lines a purity shames blind fold these lies hold your head up high just breathe behind these blinds unfold your mind figure eight we just stare close by a gordian knot we share between chairs this and theirs i watch the tears fall as they disappear i'm in awe of you simply because of who you are a persona of dreams to be hold you're a far more than perfect soul i will show you my scars good bye to yesterday holding emotions away watching the sun stay forever
