Raindrops tumble to the ground making puddles all around

Drops of rain that look like tears fall on my window pane

Raindrops seem to harmonize with teardrops falling from my eyes

And my tears keep falling down steady as the rain

Steady as the rain they fall tears that just don't dry at all

Tears that cannot wash away the pain

Sometimes without knowing it I touch my face and it feels wet

And my tears keep falling down as steady as the rain

I can't face the fact that I am not important in your life

Once you lived for only me and then your feeling changed

There's just no getting over you I try so hard but it's no use

And my tears keep falling down as steady as the rain

Raindrops just keep falling down beating out their rhythmic sounds

Dancing as they play their sweet refrain

Memories of you cross my mind cloud my eyes and I start crying

And my tears keep falling down as steady as the rain
