I saw you standing looking at me
With a smile on your face
A glass of brandy in your hand
I was singing a pretty love song
From up on the bandstand
I was just another girl singer
I must have been about 24
But you kept looking at me
Like you'd seen me somewhere before
Well you watched until my show was over
Then you came and sat down close to me
And I could tell you were much different
Than what you had appeared to be
You were like a breath of springtime
Or a cool refreshing summer breeze
And you made me feel like a special lady
When you whispered I think I'll call you lady
Yeah you whispered
I think I'll call you lady

I'll admit your smile did excite me
And that sparkle in your eye was kinda misty
I guess you cast a spell upon me
I was as helpless as a kitten in a tree
Now today the sun is shining
Yes today has come and gone
And tomorrow you will be leaving
And once again I'll be left all alone
But I'll hold you in my thoughts forever
You will always be in my memory
And I know I'll always remember
The man that called me lady
Yeah the man that called me lady
