This is how we kill our selves, and maybe we were wrong
But who will ever know
And in the winter we will meet again and well pretend were strong
But you wont see me sweating
Open youre book way deep inside I will be underlined And open youre dreams I have not died I will be underlined
Where have you gone where have you gone Arlington queen
And were about yours wondering with you Arlington
We would make a better team If we werent separated
And I dont even care if it good at all, Cause baby youll just have to step away, Im crying in the couch now Open youre book way deep inside I will be
And open youre dreams I have not died I will be
underlined
Were have you gone were have you gone Arlington
And were about yours wondering with you Arlington
And we will never go home
And we will never go home
Will be coming back down
Will be coming back down
Will be coming back down
Coming back down
In the darkness we grow (x8)
Will be coming back down
Will be coming back down
Will be coming back down
Coming back down
