

Stemage "Calling The Kettle"

Visit "Calling The Kettle" on MotoLyrics.com

Motorhead is kind like you
Nobody really likes them but they say that they do

This ego is morbidly obese
It makes it hard to keep the peace and quiet

You can cover you ears and hum to try and blend it, but the palms of your hands are transparent
There is more to this than you can hear at this moment
Just hang up and try again later
Give it a few years

Analogies don't come quick for those who need them
I left the "ly" on purpose

Leave me alone

I could use some more convincing
Jumping jacks, a tall shot of jack
I'm ready, Go ahead

Does it hurt to grow that fast? I've got some extra pity if you'd ask

You can cover you ears and hum to try and blend it, but
the palms of your hands are transparent
There is more to this than you can hear at this moment
Just hang up and try again later
Give it a few years

You can cover you ears and hum to try and blend it, but
the palms of your hands are transparent
There is more to this than you can hear at this moment
Just hang up and try again later
Give it a few years

Give it a few years

Visit Stemage page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

