Tragically now I can read you like a book
Asking me if I hate the way you look
Too blind to see what shines you push too deep within Accept yourself before you let somebody in

I won't breathe if you won't try
Thought that I will leave you behind
I can see it in your eyes gravity building up inside, yeah

Drowning in your sea of negativity
Telling me that you don't deserve to be
Eventually speak lies and I'll believe they're true
Destroy yourself but please don't take me with you

I won't breath if you won't try
Thought that I will leave you behind
I can see it in your eyes gravity building up inside

You're beautiful to me, to me
Your negative self image
Will take your shape espouse your face
And swallow me

I won't breath if you won't try
Thought that I will leave you behind
I can see it in your eyes gravity building up inside

I can see it in your eyes
(Inside)
Gravity building up inside

FUCK
