When we first met, I thought you are a girl
Who grabs my heart and runs away
But carefully you asked what makes you feel so low
I can take it away - just let go

You took my heart, put it on your back
You walked away - now you bring it back
This isn't my heart, didn't look like this
A broken toy is what I miss ?

Invent me a face, find me a name
Leave a trace, before you leave again
So hear my song and remember this
When you're gone, only my heart I miss

You took my heart, put it on your back
You walked away - now you bring it back
This isn't my heart, didn't look like this
A broken toy is what I miss ?

If you still got a memory could you lend it to me
For just one day and just one night
I don't want to turn this planet around
Just want to write what I missed down

You took my heart, put it on your back
You walked away - now you bring it back
This isn't my heart, didn't look like this
A broken toy, is it what I miss ?
