Right now, it's good to wake up
I don't want this fear sneaking through my center
Right now, love is screaming from every corner

Stars know no words but try to explain Maybe it's my whole heart which is calling for you

Right now, the distance which tears everything to pieces
Right now, pains remain, being better than wounds

This touch, will it go by ?
Let's do it quickly until time will know the truth

When do we go too far ? Explications is waiting somewhere
The net of the night conquers us all
The world stands still but the light keeps on wandering
right now

Is this the impossible ? What if we touch ?
Will it break ? Will we fall through ?
Deep into this dream, we have to drown
The world stands still but the light keeps on wandering
right now.
