De-de-de, de-de-de

Time to cut the ties, time to cut the ties

Time to cut the ties

Time to cut the ties, time to cut the ties

Save your breath babe, I can't hear it anymore

They're just stories, familiar stories and nothing more

Better believe it, I'm wiser than before

And I'm somebody else's girl

I'm living in another world

And you know that it's far away from you

And all you put me through

Don't even start, there's nothing to restore

Your problems are not my problems anymore

After this I'll change my number that's for sure

And I'm somebody else's girl

I'm living in another world

And you know that it's far away from you

And all you put me through

Keep it to yourself or you can take it someplace else

Nothing on God's green earth could make me take you back

Don't dare come knocking on my door

I know what I said but boy that was before

After all this time what do you take me for?

And I'm somebody else's girl

I'm living in another world

And you know that it's far away from you

And all you put me through

I'm somebody else's girl

I'm living in another world

And you know that it's far away from you

And all you put me through

Time to wave goodbye my baby, time to cut the ties

Time to wave goodbye my baby, time to cut the ties
Time to cut the ties
