Light pours into the room
It's just a matter of time
Before you'll be waking
My fear is the magic will disappear
And take you far from here
If only I could keep you sleeping

If only I could keep you sleeping
You would be mine
My little secret
If only I could keep you sleeping
All I want is for you to always stay here close to me
All I want is for you to always stay here close to me

I lie beside and watch you sleep
Turn your face to me
I wonder what you are dreaming
There's an air of knowing in your smile
Reflecting it's all worthwhile
And you're mine for the taking

If only I could keep you sleeping
You would be mine
My little secret
If only I could keep you sleeping
All I want is for you to always stay here close to me
All I want is for you to always stay here close to me

Open your eyes
Open your eyes

Open your eyes
Open your eyes
Open your eyes

All I want is for you to always stay here close to me
All I want is for you to always stay here close to me
Open your eyes
Open your eyes
