"My Place"

Late last night I decided to take a swim
Took off all my clothes turned around and dove in Suddenly I realized I was naked for the world to see
And the way to float had never been taught to me

Oh I'm unsure of my place in this world
And I wont understand till I'm old

And as you can imagine I sank 2000 fathoms
And when I hit bottom the fishies were rambling
Kid what cha doin whos life you trying to ruin
Get back on top and this was my reply

But soon the night drew to a close
And I swam back to my piled up clothes
Put them back on and wondered where I was to go
I've heard people say it's best to do what cha know

Maybe I wont even get it then
That's why I decided I'd just dive right back in
