Funny face, did I say something wrong again?
Tell me is there a way that we can begin again
Right the wrongs, write you a love song
And the whole world can sing along to your song

I know it took a really long time
It must have been hard to try
You made me laugh till I forgot how to cry

Funny face, if we run out of things to say
Just remember the things we said on that day
Take my hand and we'll take off down the road
It don't matter which way we go
Let's just go

I used to be blind and dumb
I'm still dumb but I see a light
That used to be seen alone

I know it took a really long time
It must have been hard to try
You made me laugh till I forgot how to cry
