Its hard to believe you're leaving
As she slowly boards a plane
I guess the sunlight I was seeing
It slowly turns to rain
And its hard to think of breathing
When I can feel the pain
I guess its not much use conceiving
So I loose myself in shame

When she leaves
He can't
He can't stand
And as she goes
He is
He's just looking like less than a man

I guess id make you stay
If I could live with that decision
Sometimes the answer seems so cloudy
For a lack of better vision
And the time we spent together
I'll hold it in my heart
You see we found a common ground
But now the world's been blown apart

When she leaves
He can't
He can't stand
And as she goes
He is
He's just looking like less than a man

When she leaves
He cant stand
And as she goes
He is
He's just looking like less than a man
He's just looking like less than a man
When she leaves
