Aim for the stars, and you'll never be shot down Believe in miracles, to turn your life around Awkward stares and unfamiliar glares
I can construct 26 rivers full of my tears (Woah...)

I'm sick and tired of being fake and pretend
The only one who understands is my best friend
First Grade Heroes from back in the day
I wouldn't have had it any other way, any other way (Any Other..)

Rewind, Stop, Play, Pause There's not a chance in the world that I'll go back to who I once was...
(x2)

Here's to living proof, that miracles can take place
That a person's past is incapable of being erased
You've got to make the best of who you are
And never give up until you've won, this battle of mind verse desire There's a difference between the necessities and wanna be's
You can't stop me now; I'm on a roll, now that I've regained control
And Finally, Figured Out, Exactly who I want to be Being strong is only an option, not responsibility Though my lack of Maturity won't provide Immunity It keeps me from crashing to my knees Look at me, and who I am, just a mirror image of who I've been
When living a life that's make-believe

You have to find the power within, to trust your heart to quite know when Enough is enough and not everyone's as tough, as people put them out to be

Here's to living proof, that miracles can take place
That a person's past is incapable of being erased

You've got to make the best of who you are
And never give up until you've won, this battle of
mind verse desire
There's a difference between the necessities and
wanna be's
You can't stop me now; I'm on a roll, now that I've
regained control
I Finally, Figured Out, Exactly who I want to be
