We'll make things right, this time around, hold on tight as our feet come off the ground Young and in love looking down from above, seeing the world from another side
But take a good look at who we are We're not who we used to be

Young and in love looking down from above, seeing
the world from
Take hold of my hand as we escape every problem that we face
Guide each other to that special place in our hearts
A place that we can call home
A place I'll never feel that I'm alone
Where I can spend forever with you

Sometimes we may not see eye to eye
But at the end of the night I've got you by my side Whenever you need me I'll be there to carry you through the night I'll do whatever it takes to make this last, to spend forever with you

Young and in love looking down from above, seeing
the world from
Take hold of my hand as we escape every problem that
we face
Guide each other to that special place in our hearts
A place that we can call home
A place I'll never feel that I'm alone
Where I can spend forever with you

Young and in love looking down from above, seeing
the world from
Take hold of my hand as we escape every problem that
we face
Guide each other to that special place in our hearts

A place that we can call home
A place I'll never feel that I'm alone
Where I can spend forever with you
