

Stephen Schwartz

"Learn you lessons well"

Visit "Learn you lessons well" on MotoLyrics.com

I can see a swath of sinners setting yonder
and they're acting like a pack of fools
Gazing into space they let their minds wander
instead of studying the good Lord's rules
You better pay attention, build your comprehension
There's gonna be a quiz at your ascension
Not to mention any threat of hell!
You'd better start to learn your lessons well!

Every bright description of the promised land means you can get there if you keep alert.
Learning every line and every last commandment
may not help you but it couldn't hurt.
First you gotta read 'em, then you gotta heed 'em,
you never know when you're gonna need 'em.
Just as Old Elijah said to Jezabel,
'You'd better start to learn your lessons well!'

Visit Stephen Schwartz page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.