"Monstre Sacre"

Hastened decrepit,
Old shrunken apple,
Ready for the pit,
I have let you go,
Without forgiving
Or understanding,
So now you are gone,
There could be nothing,
You live within me,
We communicate,
The light it creates and the tears it generates
Bring the forgiveness
Don't let me down now
Life half sapped away,
It took all that time,
Sice you passed away,
To moisten the love
Wa have forged the sought after union
Brought us together and the fullness,
The completeness, the infinite simplicity
The world offers forgiveness
