We still share the bed where our love used to be
Now it's just two bodies one needs to be set free
You put your arms around me
You think I expect you to
I can feel you touchin' me
Bit it's not really you

Chorus
It's just my life you're wastin'
Playin' your charade
Actin' like you love me
When your heart is so far away
Don't do my any favors
You don't have to stay
Just go on and leave me
The rest of the way

I see you lookin' through me
Like you're starin' at the wall
You pretend to listen
But you don't hear at all
Your sweet words were like poetry
I loved every verse
Now they've lost their meaning
'Cause they sound too well rehearsed

Chorus
