I heard some guru say the world is gonna end
Imagine being played just around bend
I get high
On some beautiful new dream

I saw a comet pass straight through heaven's gate
And some crazy fool try to articulate
How to fly
Without leaving ground

And it gets a little stranger
When sinners become saints
But who am I to sit here and complain
I'm just going insane

Come what may
Come what may I'll still be here
Waiting for my baby
She'll be here anytime
Cause in the arms of my baby
The whole world looks just fine

For a thousand years some guy will freeze your head
For a million more he'll even raise the dead
I ask why
Did Elvis have to die?

I hear the government are getting cold, cold feet
In area 52 they've grown an alien fleet
And they cry
Cause they've never seen the moon

And it gets a little darker
When she eclipsed the sun
And you're staring down the barrel of a gun
But I'm still having fun

Come what may
Come what may I'll still be here
Waiting for my baby
She'll be here anytime

Cause in the arms of my baby
The whole world looks just fine

Forget your fear of flying
Forget your fear of dying
Come on baby open up your mind
Remember all the good times
Are there because of bad times
But what do I know
I'm still driving blind
Come on, enjoy the ride

Come what may
Come what may I'll still be here
Waiting for my baby
She'll be here anytime
Cause in the arms of my baby
The whole world looks just fine
