End of days, love lies down
Rest her head on the ground
She's been out, spread the word
Maybe you might have heard yeah

Feel her touch see her hands
Helping me understand
Feel her breath into me
Always gives endlessly
There's a fascination, pulling me
It's blowing me away

She's like the wind and falling rain
She's like the laughter and the pain
She's like the voice you never heard
Love is the word

Time to sleep, time to dream
Of a world she has seen
And I reach out to her
All I know is one word
And the fascination's pulling me
It's blowing me away

She's like the wind and falling rain
She's like the laughter and the pain
She's like the voice you never heard
Love is the word

She's like the sun upon your back
She's like a lightning thunder crash
She's like a prayer you've never heard
Love is the word
