It's the last night on earth,
I want to be with you,
Everything is beautiful
It's the last night on earth,
I want to be with you,
Everyone is beautiful
Love becomes a wave...

I watch as leaves fall from the trees
Onto a lawn that has somehow withstood the test of time
I open my eyes and see nothing
I speak out and hear nothing
Silent panic sets in...

I watch as leaves fall from the trees
Onto a lawn that has somehow withstood the test of
time
All around me pictures of my pride and joy Adorn walls that have now become the insular of my life
I open my eyes and see nothing
I speak out and hear nothing
Silent panic sets in Like freeze frames, snippits of our lives pass in front of us
And the face of fear presents itself on the self-confessed sinners
As they openly plead for an afterlife that they didn't believe in in the first place Hold tight, hold tigher as we watch on freeze frame Every dream we've ever had or will ever have Disappear as our light turns into darkness...
