

Steve Boller "Brave New World"

Visit "Brave New World" on MotoLyrics.com

I'm walking down the street,
I see some people that I'll meet
Later tonight but won't remember.
It's just the same as yesterday,
Don't say a word just fabricate
Our daily interactions,
Too many distractions.

I don't think there's anybody in there anymore.

(Chorus)
We all drift off to sleep at night
Only to just wake up alone,
I don't care who lays by my side
It doesn't matter,
It doesn't matter no,
This Brave New World that we've created
Has no consequence,
So I can just pretend yeah,
So I can make believe.

I'm talking on the phone,
To a little girl I used to know
She had the world but started running,
With nowhere to go.
It's just the same as yesterday,
Don't say a word just fabricate
Our daily interactions,
Chemical attractions.

I don't think there's anybody in there anymore,

(Chorus)

I guess I'll wait for truth,
I hope I outlive youth,
I guess I'll wait for you,
But it's so hard to wait for change.

(Chorus)

