Come on and lay your burden down,
'cause there've been days when I would do the same.
And if I only knew what the future held for me.
If you only knew what it held for you.

Don't wanna feel defeated
Before your feet are even on the ground.
You got pressure's pushing all around,
And you don't wanna run away.
You just want somebody there
To listen to what you say.

Well come on and lay your burden down,
'cause there've been days when I would do the same.
And if I only knew what the future held for me.
If you only knew what it held for you.
Come on and leave it all behind
'cause we all have pain that just don't go away.
And what would I do if you broke and came to me?
What would you do if I came to you?

Tired of living on the edge.
You need a hand to help you out of this pit that you've been in.
And what you want's already yours
You don't have to spend your whole life paying for your sins.
