Oh what a plan, what a beautiful plan.
But, how it starts, is not how it ends.
Said we could chill without falling in love.
You said it would work.

But you were wrong. You were dead wrong.
I try to exscape, i try to move on.
Now I can't explain, but I wanna stay.
I gotta know, I gotta know...

Where do we go from here?
Please don't let the wrong man hear.
'Cause I could not imagine what would happen if we
end this here.
What if we never said??
And what if we never had??
Would we regret not havin, what could happen, if we
end this here?

Every kiss is like the first one.
And the less that I give, the more I want some.
I believed my own lie, I said this was enough.
But my heart disagrees.

I was dead wrong, yes said I was dead wrong.
I wanted to blame you, but it's not your fault,
why I can't explain, why I wanna stay.
I gotta know. I gotta know...

Where do we go from here?
Please don't let the wrong man hear.
'Cause I could not imagine what would happen if we
end this here.
What if we never said??
And what if we never had??
Would we regret not havin, what could happen, if we
end this here?

We breathe in the night, but there's air in the day.
We breathe on the weekend, but there's five other days.

What kind of hurt is this, that won't even let me want to exscape??

Where do we go from here?
Please don't let the wrong man hear.
'Cause I could not imagine what would happen if we
end this here.
What if we never said??
And what if we never had??
Would we regret not havin, what could happen, if we
end this here?

Where do we go?

Go???
