I was driving on a rural route,
passin people who were getting out,
of a little place where if you blink you'll miss,
they wanna go where the money is.

The kind of town that suits me just fine,
has a three digit population sign.
Its just a feeling that i feel so strong,
that's where i belong.

CHORUS

Lets take a drive down the middle of Maine,
where there's no lines to mark the lanes.
And they never heard of rush hour,
and the tallest building is the water tower.
And at the end of any west bound street,
you can still see the sun go down.
I'm moving to a small town.

I wanna go to a hardware store,
and walk across a hardwood floor.
Pick up some nails by the pound,
hellos and handshakes all around.

I think its better for the family,
thats what i think but thats just me.
And when my little boy can drive someday,
I wanna hear him say.

CHORUS

Lets take a drive down the middle of Maine,
where there's no lines to mark the lanes,
and they never heard of rush hour,
and the tallest building is the water tower.
And at the end of any street,
is the horizon all around.
Im moving to a small town.

Its a small world anyway,
and getting smaller by the day.
I'm not moving away from anyone,
just getting closer to myself.

CHORUS

Lets take a drive down the middle of Maine,
where there's no lines to mark the lanes.
And they never heard of rush hour,
and the tallest building is the water tower.
And at the end of any west bound street,
you can still see the sun go down.
I'm moving to a small town.

I'm moving to a small town.
