You'll never guess what I found today
A long lost dusty old video tape
I blew it off and I popped it in Wouldn't you know it, it was at the end

So I hit rewind
And rolled back to a better time
I took a look at when you were mine
And I remembered how good it was
I swear it was pulling me in
And I was there with you again
You said I love you to the camera then
I just had to hear it one more time
So I hit rewind

There I was alone in my empty room
The tv flickered when the tape was through
I guess I was looking for what went wrong
Over and over til the break of dawn

I hit rewind
And rolled back to a better time
I took a look at when you were mine
And I remembered how good it was
I swear it was pulling me in
And I was there with you again
You said I love you to the camera then
I just had to hear it one more time
So I hit rewind

If only life were as simple as that
And had a little button that would bring you back

I'd hit rewind
And roll back to a better time
I'd make sure you'd still be mine
We'd let the sun shine down on us
And it'd be every bit as good as it was
I swear I would pull you in
And never let go again
You'd say I love you everymorning and

If I wanna hear it one more time
I wouldn't have to hit rewind
Rewind
Rewind
