Check out the new girl at the office, she started yesterday
Finally got a reason to go to work besides my pay-Check out the new girl at the office, they all say she's quite a cutie
Ten years in this cubicle, and I've never seen such beauty
The new girl at the office, I dig her demographic On her walk down to the subway, I wave to her from traffic

Now the new girl at the office, knows nothing 'bout my life
But I think of her when I go home, to my screaming kids
and wife

Check out the new girl at the office, and tell me what you think
And don't you make a crude remark about dipping your pen in company ink
The new girl at the office, with the overhead projector When some fool says her plan won't work, I rise up to protect her

Now the new girl at the office, knows nothing 'bout my
But I think of her when I go home, to my screaming kids
and wife

I should respond to the boss' email, he wants to do away with casual day But my mind's on a certain female, who smiles at me in the hallway

Now the new girl at the office, found a better job downtown
I wrote "we're gonna miss you," when they passed her card around

Now the new girl at the office, knew nothing 'bout my

I still think of her when I go home, to my screaming kids and wife
