We're both looking lately like we need a break.
The frantic pace we're living is hard to take.
Someone else can have the gold, I'll take you and me.
So let's jump in that old truck and run free.
We'll cross the border outside of Eagle Pass.
There's a little town I know we could have a gas.
We'll find a hide-a-way with the stars above,
And make a little Mexico love.
We can hear the mariachis play.
We can fall in love again every day.
You're still the only one I'm dreaming of.
And we'll make a little Mexico love.
Tiny cantina — in another world.
I'll be your vaquero, you'll be my dark-eyed girl.
We'll drink a little mescal, get a little buzz,
And make a little Mexico love.
We can hear the mariachis play.
We can fall in love again every day.
You're still the only one I'm dreaming of.
And we'll make a little Mexico love.
Every language has a word for romance.
It translates so easy when you slow dance.
They won't even notice if we take some home,
Mi amore — mi corazone.
We can hear the mariachis play.
We can fall in love again every day.
You're still the only one I'm dreaming of.
And we'll make a little Mexico love.
You're still the only one I'm dreaming of.
And we'll make a little Mexico love..
